SPACE - PAST

The former beauty salon „Babette“ was built in the early 1960s as one of five shop buildings designed by Josef Kaiser. While the other four buildings had a similar structure, „Babette“ was architecturally inspired by Cafe Moskau.

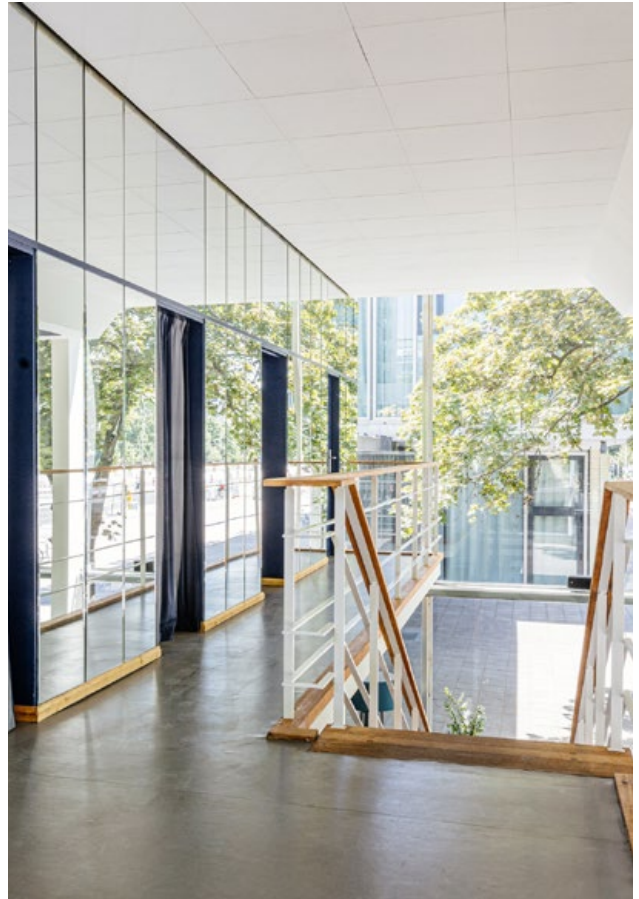

The light-flooded ground floor was used as a showroom for cosmetic products and on the upper floor were four treatment rooms. The striking staircase connected the ground floor and the gallery of „Babette“.

At one time the roof of Salon „Babette“ was equipped with illuminated advertising designed by Professor Wittkugel which was part of the unified Karl-Marx-Allee look. A very evident feature of the historical monument is the big glass front and the cubic structure of the building.

EVENT SPACE

The ground floor (Madona) is a multifunctional room with a bar, additionally equipped with a 84" display and 4-point soundsystem by our partner AMBION and modern furniture by our partner Party Rent Berlin. The entrance to the building is via Karl-Marx-Allee.

Elva (upper floor) is a small lounge space which is accessible via the staircase, equipped with a 70" display.

The backstage area and restrooms are on the ground floor.

Salon Babette can be booked separately or together with the adjacent Cafe Moskau. To access Salon Babette from Cafe Moskau however you will have to use the east entrance and the main entrance of Salon Babette at Karl-Marx-Allee.
